Functions of the Faculty Committees

(All acts of faculty committees are subject to the approval of the Principal)

Advanced Standing: This committee shall determine the value of all work done in other schools which is offered by entering or prospective students for advanced standing here, and shall report its findings to the Principal.

Athletics: This committee shall have general supervision over all public athletic games, exhibitions and contests, and shall have control over the arrangements for such games, exhibitions and contests with other schools or associations.

It shall have control over the finances and property of the Athletic Association, and over the purchase of needed athletic supplies.

It shall decide what candidates for membership on teams or for admission to athletic games, exhibitions and contests shall be eligible, and it shall exclude from participation those whom it finds below the standard in their studies, or ineligible for any other cause.

Classification: This committee shall enroll and classify all students.

It shall see that a full and correct registry of students be kept in the office, with copies of individual programs.

Subject to such regulations as may be adopted by the Principal, it shall pass upon all requests for changes of program.

It shall see that the grades made by students each term are duly reported to the recording official.

It shall follow up students' work and discipline delinquents, when in its judgment it thinks best, and also offer such advice and encouragement as seem wise.

It shall have the power to call upon teachers for weekly reports of the standing of students whose work is under its consideration.

It shall assign seats in Chapel to students as soon as practicable after the opening of each term.

Commencement: This committee shall have general directive charge of the affairs of Commencement.

It shall see that the diplomas are ready, and shall have proper programs printed.

Lectures and Entertainments: This committee shall select and contract for all lectures and entertainments for the regular Normal Lecture Course.

All entertainments, excepting those which come under the control of other regular committees or the Principal, must receive the approval of this committee and be subject to its regulations before they shall be permitted to appear in the Chapel.

Dining Room: This committee shall have general charge of all dining room matters not coming under the official control of the Steward; it shall do the seating; it shall see that good order is maintained, not only in the dining room, but upon entering and leaving the same; in this work it shall have the co-operation of all members of the faculty.

Literary Societies: In working with committees appointed by the Societies, or in working with the Society Officials, this committee shall represent the Faculty. It shall labor to make more effective and valuable the work of the literary societies, and to this end shall advise with the members of the societies from time to time.

It shall have general charge of all contests, inter-society, or inter-collegiate, and open meetings.

Any and all society meetings shall be open to the members of this committee and they shall attend the meetings from time to time.

Program: This committee shall make out the term program, at least one week prior to the opening of the term.

The committee may, when it deems best, consult with other members of the faculty relative to the schedule, but it shall have power to make out the program as it seems best in its judgment, and when so made and approved by the Principal, the same shall be final.

Recommendations and Position: This committee shall assist graduates and qualified students to secure positions to teach, and shall aid school officials in procuring teachers.

It shall collect complete and accurate information respecting all applicants for positions to teach who ask the assistance of the committee.

Religious Work: It shall be the function of this committee to assist and encourage the students in all religious work. It shall advise with the officers of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

School Magazine: This committee shall have general charge of the publication known as the Normal Herald.

Social Life: This committee shall have general and executive charge of the social life of the students. It shall have charge of the Saturday evening social, of the Hallowe'en and Washington's Birthday events, and such other affairs as the Hauxhurst spreads, hay-rides and sleigh-rides.

State Board: It shall be the duty of this committee to make all needful preparation for facilitating the work of the State Board of Examiners.

NOTE: The Normal, through its Committee on Recommendations and Positions, is prepared to give systematic aid to its graduates and students in securing suitable positions to teach.

The committee seeks to assist school authorities in procuring competent teachers. The plan is to recommend candidates best suited to fill vacancies and not to send out general letters of recommendation.

School authorities who write the committee will have full and confidential information in regard to applicants.

School officers are cordially invited to visit the Normal to inspect the work of those whom they may wish to secure to fill positions. Correspondence is invited from Boards, Principals and Superintendents in regard to vacancies and teachers. This information will be treated in full confidence and all possible assistance will be gladly given.

While the chief work of the committee will be to help the students who are in attendance, yet it is the purpose to lend assistance to graduates and former students in securing for themselves more satisfactory positions. To this end the full cooperation of Alumni and former students is earnestly desired. Write to the committee when in need of a teacher. Supply information concerning vacancies.

All correspondence in regard to location of teachers should be addressed to the Secretary or the Principal.

The Pennsylvania State Normal School

History

THE plan of this Institution was conceived in the sixties, the first money, some twenty thousand dollars, being subscribed for its founding in 1869. The first recognition by the State was through an act of the General Assembly in 1871, but the school was not opened until May 17, 1875. Its first principal was Dr. E. B. Fairfield, who afterwards, as the first Chancellor of the University of Nebraska, so largely influenced the future of that institution.

Among the notable men present upon the opening day of the school was one of Pennsylvania's most famous educators, then State Superintendent of Public Instruction, James P. Wickersham, who stated in his public address that it was his opinion that Indiana's first building was the largest, finest and best planned structure, devoted to normal school education, in the United States. A monument to its founders, that building still stands, and in honor of the first president of the board of trustees, it is known as John Sutton Hall.

In 1893, there was erected upon our campus a brick residence for men students. The building was forty by one hundred feet, and consisted of a basement and three stories. In February, 1906, this building burned to the ground. There were excellent fire escapes, so not only were no lives lost, but there were no serious injuries.

The ruins were not cold before the trustees were planning for a larger and better dormitory for our young men, and in January, 1907, the Indiana boys took possession of one of the best school residences for men in the State. The building stands upon the site of the old one, but is somewhat larger, and is known as Clark Hall, in honor of the board's second president, Justice Silas M. Clark.

In 1893, also, the board erected, to the northward of the main building, The Model School, and named it in honor of their third president, the A. W. Wilson Hall. This building contains eight large, airy class rooms, with ample play rooms in the basement for use on stormy days.

Recitation Building
Jane E. Leonard
Hall

The year 1903 marked a strong advance in Indiana's material equipment. The Normal's Recitation Hall was then erected. It stands just to the southward of Wilson Hall, completing the east wing of the quadrangle. A stately structure it is, and one of the most beautiful on the campus. The dimensions are a frontage of one hundred thirty feet and a depth of one hundred twenty-three. The building is the school proper of the Normal and contains twenty-four large, beautiful rooms. The trustees honored themselves by naming this building after one of their most widely known and most faithful teachers, Jane E. Leonard.

During that same year, there was erected to the westward of the south wing of John Sutton Hall another most beautiful and imposing structure, one hundred twenty-three by ninety-two feet in size and three stories high. In the basement of this building is the laundry and storage, while on the first floor are the kitchens, dining room, and the Steward's office; the Musical Conservatory occupies the second story, while the third floor contains rooms used by the Institution's domestic help. This building is known as Thomas Sutton Hall in honor of the President of the Board of Trustees.

Indiana's student growth has never been phenomenal, but it has been sure, and has increased from 328, the total enrollment of that first term back in 1875, to 1,100, the number for the year just closed, the largest in its history.

Down the Quadrangle

Material Equipment

The Buildings

These have already been quite fully described. They all are built of stone and brick in the most substantial manner, and are heated by steam, direct or indirect, with the fan system. The main building, used as the girls' residence, is equipped with a large hydraulic passenger elevator, running from the basement to the top floor, which makes the upper floors more desirable in some respects than the lower ones. This entire building is heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Every floor is supplied with an abundance of hot and cold water, and the bath rooms, lavatories and water closets are of the most approved patterns.

On account of our method of lighting and heating, the possibility of a fire is small, while danger from it is reduced to a minimum by ample arrangements for extinguishment, and by fire escapes abundantly provided for each floor, and for each room.

In brief, this immense building is planned and furnished throughout for the convenience, safety and success of its occupants.

Each student's room is furnished with a bedstead, a bureau, a washstand with necessary china, two chairs, a study table and a neat case of book shelves. All rooms are carpeted and have plain shades to the windows.

The night watchman has his headquarters in this building, and makes the rounds of all the buildings on the campus four times each night.

On the Veranda,
Girls' Dormitory

Each student's room in the boys' dormitory is furnished with two single iron bedsteads, a bureau, a washstand with necessary china, two chairs and a study table.

The Laboratories

For physics, chemistry and biology are located on the first floor of Leonard Hall. Few, if any, normal schools in this country are better equipped for science work than is Indiana. These laboratories are supplied with every necessary instrument and equipment for individual study.

The Library

A good reference library is accessible every day to all students. Here are found the leading encyclopedias, dictionaries and other standard reference books, historical charts, maps and other conveniences so essential to successful student life.

There is also a large library of choice works of history, biography and literature free to all students.

It is not the aim to mass books merely for the sake of making a large library; but we do aim to have every usable book and periodical.

The addition to the library during the year will aggregate eight hundred volumes.

The Infirmary

Is pleasantly located in a retired portion of the south wing of John Sutton Hall. This Infirmary is for indisposed girls. Every sanitary precaution is here taken, and every necessary arrangement is provided for the intelligent care of the sick. A graduate nurse is always in charge. Many a serious illness has been averted by early caring for the student in this infirmary. The excellent health of our girls is proverbial, and the Infirmary is responsible in no small degree for it. No extra charge is made for care in the Infirmary, not even for the consumption of common remedies, a stock of which is always on hand. But in case the illness is such as to require the care of a physician or special nursing, the student pays that cost, and the cost of filling the physician's prescriptions. At some distance from the main buildings, and off the campus, the Institution maintains a small hospital, to which cases are confined if there is cause to suspect contagion.

In short, every precaution is taken to protect the health of the Indiana student; and during a third of a century but two deaths have occurred in the Institution, and it has never suffered from an epidemic, notwithstanding the thousands who have been under its care.

Kitchen and Dining Hall

Boarding

The boarding department of this school is under the charge of a Steward of wide experience.

All who visit the institution are delighted with its beautiful, spacious dining room, and its immaculately clean kitchens, fitted up with every modern appliance of worth. The kitchen is presided over by Mr. Jacob F. Rhem, an expert chef. There are three assistant cooks. The great bake ovens are in the basement. We bake all our bread (white, Vienna, Graham, whole wheat, corn-bread and biscuit), pies and puddings. Mr. Edwin McClaren, a professional baker, has charge of the ovens.

All water served on our tables is from our own wells, drilled to a depth of more than two hundred feet.

Each table seats ten, and so far as possible is presided over by a teacher.

It is the Steward's aim to provide good, substantial, wholesome food. While it is plain, it is always the best quality to be found on our markets.

It is doubtful if there is another school in the country, whatever its character or charges, that provides a greater variety of food or more wholesome food for its students than does Indiana.

Our bills of fare vary with the seasons. Ice cream is regularly served twice a week. Special meals are prepared for the sick.

Students are permitted to room and board with private families, or to room in private homes and take meals in the school, at the discretion of the Principal.

At Work in the Laundry

Laundry

The Institution owns a first-class laundry, and has it under the management of competent people. The price of board here includes free laundry to the extent of ten plain pieces a week, in addition to towels and napkins. In the basement of the girls' residence is a place to do washing and ironing for the use of girls only, and many of them attend to the laundering of their own handkerchiefs and other small pieces.

Outfit, Rooms, Washing

Outfit.—Students are expected to provide themselves with towels, table napkins, soap and other needful toilet articles.

Each student should provide himself with knife, fork, and spoon, for private use, as the school's silver will not be sent out of the dining room.

Rooms.—Students in actual attendance at the close of one term are entitled to preference in the choice of rooms for the next term. All other students are entitled to choice of rooms in the order of the receipt of their application.

No rooms, selected by or for the students, will be held for them beyond the first Thursday of the term, except upon special agreement to that effect, and charge will in all cases be made for rooms thus held.

Each room is intended to accommodate two boarders, and the scale of prices given in this catalogue is arranged accordingly. Where the student occupies a room alone, an extra charge will be made, and must be prepaid before taking the room.

Washing.—Each student is entitled to the washing of ten plain pieces in addition to towels and napkins.

All articles sent to the laundry must be plainly marked with the name of the owner in some indelible form, and should be in a laundry bag.

Enjoying the Campus

Location

The Institution is fortunate in its location, the site being one of great natural beauty, while the surrounding city is characteristically beautiful, and has developed those moral influences so desirable in the seat of an institution of learning. The city has a population of more than 6,000, and maintains churches of the following denominations: Methodist Episcopal, Free Methodist, Episcopal, Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, Catholic, Lutheran, Baptist, Wesleyan Baptist, German Lutheran and Christian.

Growth and improvement have especially marked Indiana in the past few years, and bid fair to continue. Many blocks of excellent brick paving have been laid, and contracts for many more have been let.

The place is reached by rail without difficulty, being the northern terminus of the "Indiana Branch" of the Pennsylvania, the change from the main line being made at Blairsville Intersection, where the Indiana train awaits the main line train. The Indiana Branch connects at Blairsville with the West Penn Division. Indiana is also on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, which gives connection with all northern points. The Institution is within ten minutes' walk of either depot. The Pennsylvania stops all its trains at the "Campus Landing" on the first day of each term.

Telephone connection can be made from the main building with all leading points.

Reference has been made to Indiana's naturally beautiful location. Here in the foot-hills of the Alleghanies, thirteen hundred feet above sea level, with a clear, pure atmosphere, its inhabitants have always been free from miasmatic or malarial complaints. For a third of a century the health record of the school has been phenomenal. Our campus, now comprising twenty-three acres, has its natural beauty greatly enhanced by the constant care of a landscape gardener;

Old Northeast
Balcony

but its beauty is much more graphically told, than mere words can do, by the photographic reproductions running through this volume. It is the belief of the Institution's authorities that such surroundings are a potent factor in the upbuilding of the student's character.

Purpose and Function of this School

Pennsylvania, in common with most of the American States, realized, practically from its founding, the necessity of an educated citizenship. It is axiomatic that a just and efficient government must and will be controlled and administered by the educated; hence, the genius of our government implies an educated citizenship. This attitude of the State toward the instruction of its people makes it the one competent agency in supplying qualified teachers for its schools. This the State of Pennsylvania does through its Public Normal Schools, whose function is the preparation of teachers for the common schools of the State. The learning and training imparted by the State through its Normal School has not

Uptown Streets

for its purpose the bettering of the condition of one class of persons at the public expense; the school does not exist for the benefit of its students simply, but for the benefit of the whole people, and its work is done with the general welfare always in view.

It is sometimes declared by some well-meaning critic that the normal should be "a purely professional school," meaning that the school should not do academic work, but devote itself to the teaching of pedagogics, psychology, the philosophy of education, etc. All experienced trainers of teachers realize the inefficiency of such work. Those so trained rarely make successful teachers. As well might medical students devote their time to study of diagnosis and the theory of disease, apart from materia medica and the common diseases encountered in actual practice. The average high school graduate has been away from the common school subjects for from four to five years. His knowledge of those subjects was obtained at an immature age. In his normal school course they must be reviewed from the standpoint of a teacher. His view will be very different from the view he had as a child. The normal school must not only teach how to teach, but what to teach and the educational value of study subjects. True, it cannot and does not confine its courses to common school subjects, realizing the necessity of having the content of its courses broad and cultural. These facts make the normal school a desirable institution in which to obtain a general education for any purpose in life. More and more, far-seeing parents have recognized this, and have insisted upon the privilege of paying full tuition for having their children educated in the normal school, thus benefiting by its peculiar excellence.

For thousands of years, thoughtful men have realized the peculiar educational and cultural value of music, and its psychological effect in giving tone and sanity to mental life. American educational leaders believe in music as a school study,

John Sutton Hall
from Ivy Oak

and insist upon the common-school teacher's possessing a fair degree of musical knowledge and ability. To meet this demand in training, the leading normal schools have founded strong departments of music. The department at Indiana has grown into a well-equipped Conservatory, second to none in this section of the country.

The life of a community determines the practical side of its school education. America is a business country; hence, in its cities everywhere high schools are offering business courses. To prepare teachers for this class of high school work, this Normal maintains a Business School. So thorough and excellent is the course, that many graduate from it, not to teach, but to take up business careers.

In short, it is the purpose of this Institution to prepare teachers for every grade and kind of teaching of wide demand.

Discipline

All questions of internal organization in a school must be determined by the fundamental conception of the function of the school. In determining the nature and character of discipline in a normal school, the function of the institution makes it necessary that it be but slightly, if at all, reformatory in its nature. The general welfare of the State would not be promoted by licensing one of evil tendencies, or certain shortcomings, to teach in the schools of the commonwealth.

It is, therefore, the policy of the administrative authorities to ask any student who does not conduct her- or himself in all things as become the lady or gentleman, or who is found not to be adapted to the life and work of the school for other reasons, to withdraw from the Institution.

In the government of the School, the largest liberty, consistent with good work and order, is allowed. The disciplinary power of the Institution is brought to bear upon the student, only to bring him to a rational understanding of freedom, and to lead him to such self-government as will make him capable in the future of wisely governing others who shall become his pupils.

Ready for the Hay Ride

It is the desire and aim of the Faculty to make the government in the school ethical in its basis.

Social Life

The residence of the young ladies and that of the young gentlemen who attend this Institution are entirely separate. All use the same dining room, however, which adds greatly to the social and cultural life of the school.

All social events in which the sexes mingle are under the direct charge of a faculty committee.

Religious Influences

This school is not denominational in any sense. Its authorities, however, aim to make it a place of gentle but positive influence. To this end family worship is held daily, and students are required to attend the church of their own choice on Sunday mornings.

The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. aid in the religious culture of all whose homes are in the Institution. They include a large proportion of the students. These associations have charge of the Thursday evening prayer-meetings, and hold a joint meeting Sunday evenings. Endeavor is made to promote Sabbath observance.

Students are thus encouraged to become Christian workers, and school life is made to minister to the elevation of Christian life.

Veranda,
Principal's
Residence

Besides these associations, there are various others of a practical type and in a highly prosperous condition.

The denominations that maintain churches in Indiana were mentioned in describing the School's location.

The Lecture Course

The Institution maintains an excellent lecture course for its student body. On this course is always to be found the best obtainable talent. During the past season our students had the privilege of hearing in the Chapel—

Mr. Leland T. Powers,

Artists' Concert,

Mr. Geo. R. Wendling,

Harold Jarvis Concert Company,

Dr. Thomas Green,

Clark Concert Company.

The list for the coming year has not been completed, but the following talent has been engaged:

Lorado Taft, of Chicago Art School,

Governor Johnson, of Minnesota,

Judge Willis Brown, of Salt Lake City,

Miss Isabel Gaighill Beecher,

The Hungarian Orchestra.

Student Organizations

Literary Societies

The Erodolphian Literary Society was founded during the first years of the School. Its purpose is to give students an opportunity for practice in public speaking, and parliamentary tactics. The Huyghenian is a similar society. Both these organizations have well furnished halls.

The first annual contest between the two societies was held last year, the Erodolphians carrying off the honors. The next contest will be held at the close of the winter term.

The
Old East Steps

Christian Associations

The students maintain two religious organizations—the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. These associations hold regular weekly meetings for devotional purposes, and occasional social gatherings. The meetings are a source of strength and help to the young people. The associations are factors for good in the School, and new students are cordially invited to identify themselves with them. Committees of the two associations meet all terms at the beginning of the terms to assist and direct new students.

Each of the associations has a furnished hall for its meetings.

Alumni Association

Indiana has graduated nearly two thousand teachers, and they constitute a loyal and enthusiastic band of supporters for their Alma Mater.

The Alumni Association has been a useful factor, indeed, in the upbuilding of the school. Its services have been numerous and varied. But it is hoped that its influence may be made even more potent. No school can accomplish great things without the aid of a loyal and enthusiastic alumni. Let us not forget the fact that in our union rests the strength that will make us a success in our professional life. Let us not forget the fact that it is the excellence of our work that gives reputation to our Alma Mater, and that her reputation is ours.

The Association holds an annual reunion. There is both a business meeting and a banquet. The next meeting is set for June 30, 1908, and it is expected to be the largest in the history of the Association.

Publications of the School

The Quarterly Bulletin:

Catalogue Number in June.

Department Number in September.

Alumni Number in December.

Department Number in March.

The Herald: The regular organ of the Normal, published quarterly by the students and faculty. The Herald is sent free to old students. If you do not get your copy, write for it.

How to Enter the School

Upon arrival at Indiana, come at once to the Normal, which is but a short distance southwest of the Pennsylvania depot, and southeast of the B. R. and P. depot.

The Registrar will be in the Principal's Office, just to the left of the north entrance of the main building. All preliminary arrangements will be made here,

Training School
from Rear

when the student will go to Leonard Hall, just north of the main building, to be classified. No student is classified who does not show the Principal's receipt for payments required at entrance. After classification, consult with the Preceptor or the Preceptress relative to the engagement of a room.

Graduation

In order to graduate from any Pennsylvania State Normal, the candidate must have passed examination by the State Board in each of the three years of the State Course— Junior, Middle and Senior. The Board will not examine a student in all three of these years at one time; they will examine for the passing of the Junior and the Middle years at one time. Students who show themselves capable of the work and strain are permitted to prepare for this examination in one year, and are classed as Junior-Middlers.

Cap and Gown

The regulation cap and gown sanctioned by the Intercollegiate Bureau and Registry of Academic Costume, are worn by the Seniors of this Institution, upon the proper occasions.

The cost of the cap and gown ranges from $4.00 up.

Suggestions to Prospective Students

Come Early

Success demands that you be here early. Tardiness in the commencement of a term, or irregularity of attendance after the commencement, are very serious hindrances to success. Be here and ready for work on the very first day and the very first hour of the term.

A Girls' Room in Sutton Hall

Time for Thorough Work

It often happens that an ambitious young man or woman, limited in means, and desirous of commencing life's active labors as soon as possible, determines to try to do two years' work in one, or that of three in two.

Such a course is scarcely ever advisable. One essential element in the teacher's preparation is time. Solid attainment is never a mushroom growth. Two years' work demands two years in which to do it well; and unless work is well done, the result will prove a source of regret through many years of mistakes, which might have been avoided had more thorough preparation been made. If you need more than a year for your work, and have only the means at command for one year's expenses at school, come for the year, and then by remaining out of school for a time, make it possible to return and complete your course. It is not an absolute necessity that you graduate at a certain time; it is absolutely essential to your true success that you make thorough preparation.

Visits

Success demands concentration of thought. This is prevented by frequent visits at home or elsewhere, and usually time thus spent greatly hinders the progress of the student. Make few, if any, visits away from school.

Your Own Books

While you will find many books of reference here, still it is advisable for you to bring all the books you have, that you may make personal and daily use of them. The habit of such use is of incalculable importance, and school life should ever minister to the formation of such habits as will lead to success in the after walks of life. Bring your books with you; place them where you can conveniently use them, and by their use form a habit, the value of which you can never overestimate.

Under the Oaks

Conform

It is the school's interest and purpose to serve you, but this it can do but poorly unless you conform to the life of the Institution. Make up your mind to get all the good out of the school you can. Come with the purpose of being happy in your work, of getting acquainted and entering heartily and cheerfully into the complete life of the school, making it all yours.

The School's Reputation Yours

The Indiana Normal proposes to maintain a high standard of excellence, both as to scholarship and as to attainment of skill in teaching.

Our inquiry is, and will remain, not how many can we graduate, but how many, and who, are thoroughly prepared for graduation.

For the sake of those who shall employ our teachers, and for the sake of the teachers themselves, we desire to make our diplomas valuable and preserve to them their value; and we trust that you will appreciate the fact that you must yourself contribute to so desirable an end.

Rules for Final Examinations, Admission to the Middle and Senior Classes, Etc.

(For all the Normal Schools of Pennsylvania)

1. Admission to the Senior and Middle classes shall be determined by the State Board of Examiners at the annual examination by the Board.
2. In order to be admitted to the Middle class at any State normal school, students must be examined by the State Board in all the Junior studies (except

The "Sandwich
Committee" on Parade

English Grammar and Arithmetic), and this examination shall be final. Persons who desire to be admitted to the Middle class without having previously attended a State normal school must pass an examination by the Faculty in all the studies of the Junior year and by the State Board of Examiners in the academic studies of the Junior year (except the Senior review studies), and Plane Geometry or the first book of Cæsar, and must complete School Management in the Middle year.

3. In order to be admitted to the Senior class, students must be examined by the State Board in all the Middle year studies (except Methods), and this examination shall be final. Persons who desire to be admitted to the Senior class without having previously attended a State normal school, must pass an examination by the Faculty and State Board in the academic studies of the entire course except the review studies of the Senior year, and must devote their time during the Senior year to the professional studies of the course, and the review studies.

4. If the Faculty of any State normal school, or the State Board of Examiners, decide that a person is not prepared to pass an examination by the State Board, he shall not be admitted to the same examinations at any other State normal school during the same school year.

5. If a person who has completed the examinations required for admission to the Middle or Senior class at any State Normal School, desires to enter another normal school, the Principal of the school at which the examination was held shall send the proper certificate to the Principal of the school which the person desires to attend. Except for the reason here stated, no certificate setting forth the passing of the Junior or Middle year studies shall be issued.

6. Candidates for graduation shall be examined by the State Board in all branches of the Senior year, including English Grammar and Arithmetic. They shall have the opportunity of being examined in any higher branches, including vocal and instrumental music and double-entry bookkeeping; and all studies completed by them shall be named in their certificates.

A "Line-up"

7. Persons who have been graduated may be examined at any State examination in any higher branches, and the Secretary of the Board of Examiners shall certify on the back of their diplomas to the passing of the branches completed at said examination.

8. A certificate setting forth the proficiency of all applicants in all studies in which they desire to be examined by the State Board of Examiners shall be prepared and signed by the Faculty and presented to the Board. The certificate for the studies of the Junior year shall also include the standing of applicants in the review studies in the Senior year.

Regulations for Advanced Standing

(At Indiana.)

1. Graduates of Accredited High Schools shall, without previous examination by the Faculty, be admitted to the Junior examination given by the State Board.

The passing of this examination admits to the Middle Year of the School.

2. Graduates of Accredited High Schools may be admitted to the Middle Year Examination given by the State Board; provided, they pass a satisfactory examination before the Faculty in all academic branches of the Senior Year and in one branch of each department of the Middle year studies—the branch to be selected by the head of the department.

The passing of this examination before the State Board admits to the Senior year of the School.

3. Students who have done two or more years' high school work may enter the Middle year of the Normal; and if they do satisfactory work throughout the year, passing successfully the Junior examination given by the State Board,

Gardener at Work

they shall be excused from the Junior work; provided, they present a certificate from the Principal of their high school, stating that the Junior work, as outlined for this school, has been satisfactorily done.

4. Advanced standing may also be obtained on work done in other state normals or colleges; but each individual case will be acted upon by the Committee on Advanced Standing, at the time application for the standing is made.

5. Subjects included in the regular course of the Normal School, but not included in the High School, or other course on which advanced standing is based, must be studied at the Normal, in order to graduation.

NOTE—The State Board examinations in all years will be given at the State Normal School, Indiana, Pa., by the State Board, on a date near the Commencement. Those who are to take these examinations, and these examinations only, should be here on the day before that date. Those, however, who are to take the preliminary examinations before the Faculty should be here a week earlier.

Examination of Practical Teachers

The Normal School law makes it the duty of the State Board of Examiners to grant diplomas or state certificates to actual teachers of common schools, without their having attended the Normal School as students, upon the following conditions:

1. The applicant must be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character, and must have taught successfully in the common schools of this State during three consecutive annual terms immediately preceding the examination. The proof of good moral character, and satisfactory teaching for the required time, must be a certificate from the proper Board or Boards of Directors, signed by the President and Secretary and countersigned by the proper Superintendent or Superintendents.

2. The examination may be in either the Regular or the Supplementary Course, as the applicant may elect, according to the list of studies as printed

A Congregation on the Campus

in the circulars of the State Normal Schools and approved by the State Superintendent, or in such other studies as may, by the Board of Examiners, be deemed equivalent.

3. Each applicant is required to prepare and present to the State Board of Examiners an original thesis of not less than six folio pages of manuscript, on some professional subject, which thesis is to be retained at the school where the examination takes place.

4. The examination and certificate are without expense to the applicant, and the certificate is full evidence of qualification to teach the branches therein named, in any part of the State without further examination.

5. Practical teachers attending examinations at the State Normal Schools for the purpose of procuring State Certificates are examined separately from the regular students, and both the State Board of Examiners and the faculty of the school at which the examination is held, take part in the examination, all being required to sign the certificate.

Certificate and Diploma

The State Normal Certificate is issued to those who are graduated. It entitles the holder to teach in the public schools of the State for two years without further examination. The State Normal Diploma is issued to graduates who have taught in the common schools of the State for two full annual school terms of not less than seven months each after graduation, and who present certificates of successful teaching from each of the school boards, countersigned by the county, city or borough superintendent. It is furnished without charge, unless the name is to be engrossed, in which case one dollar is charged.

The
"Devil's Elbow"

Degrees

Graduates of State Normal Schools, in the Regular course, and graduates of accredited colleges may become candidates for the degrees of Bachelor of Pedagogics (Pd. B.) and Master of Pedagogics (Pd. M.). To obtain these degrees, candidates must be examined by the Faculty and the State Board upon the studies of the Supplementary Course. Three years' successful teaching in the public schools of the State since graduation (or two years in the case of candidates who taught in the Model School) will be required of all candidates for the degree of Master of Pedagogics, in addition to the branches of study indicated in the Supplementary Course.

Attendance at a State Normal School during the entire Senior year will be required of all candidates for graduation; but candidates for a pedagogical degree may prepare the required work in absentia.

A few rooms have recently been fitted up on the second floor of John Sutton Hall for which a special price is charged.

Teachers entering the Normal as soon as their schools have closed and remaining until the end of the term will be charged from the beginning of the week of entrance at term rates.

Free Tuition

The State pays the tuition of students who comply with the conditions set forth in the following statute passed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, in 1905:

"For each student 17 years of age, who shall sign an agreement binding said student to teach in the common schools of this State two full annual terms, there shall be paid the sum of one dollar and fifty cents a week in full payment of the expenses of tuition of said students.

Provided, That each student in a State Normal School, drawing an allowance from the State, must receive regular instruction in the science and art of teaching in a special class devoted to that object, for the whole time for which such an allowance is drawn."

Deductions

For absence two consecutive weeks or more, on account of personal sickness, one-half the usual charges for board and tuition.

No deduction is made for absence the first two or the last three weeks of the term, except by previous arrangement with the Principal.

Payment of Bills

An "enrollment fee" of two dollars for each term is charged all students and must be paid at the time of enrollment. This entitles the student to a ticket of admission to all athletic events, the course of university extension lectures and all other lectures under the auspices of the school.

Bills for board and tuition are payable, one-half, plus $2.00, at the opening, and the remainder at the middle of the term. State aid is not credited before the end of the term.

Bank Drafts, Checks, Express and P. O. Orders are accepted. Payments must be made, or satisfactorily provided for, before students are assigned to classes.

Students desiring to leave school before the close of the term must report to the Principal and settle any unpaid accounts; and in all cases bills for board and tuition will be made out for the entire term unless notice of leaving is given at the time of leaving, or (in case this is impossible) immediately thereafter.

Visitors expecting to remain more than three days are requested to make arrangements in advance with the Principal.

All bills are payable to the Principal.

A Comparison of School Expenses

We are often asked by prospective students and parents contemplating the education of a son or daughter, if the charges at Indiana are reasonable. For the information of such we offer the following comparisons:

Indiana's charge for a full year of 40 weeks, for all fees, tuition, board, room, heat, light and laundry, in the Normal Department, is from $166 to $226.

The best of the smaller colleges of our State, such as Haverford, Lafayette and Swarthmore, charge for board, room and tuition, exclusive of laundry and sometimes class fees, from $300 to $575 per year.

Phillips Academy in Massachusetts gives $465 as "moderate" for tuition, board and room for one year, and $595 as "liberal."

As an example of the cost of attending one of the great universities, of high grade, we mention Princeton, where the average cost is $568 a year.

The State Normal is not designed to be a money making institution; hence, its charges are kept down to the actual cost of maintenance.

Notes

Subjects may be added to the Preparatory Course if the need arise.

Pedagogics I, in the Fall Term of the Junior Year, is preliminary School Management.

Pedagogics I, in the Winter and Spring Terms, is School Management given 2½ periods a week.

English I and English II shall be given 2½ periods a week.

Pedagogics V and VI shall be given 2½ periods a week.

All other subjects, where the number of hours is not stated, are daily subjects.

Greek, German, or French of the Middle Year may be substituted for Latin or for Chemistry of the Middle year.

English History, Ethics, and either Astronomy or Logic may be substituted for Latin, in the Senior Year; Greek, German, or French may be substituted in the Senior Year for Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, and Surveying, or for Latin.

Analytic Statement of Department Work

Department of Pedagogics

MISS ACKERMAN

School Management.—The winter and spring terms of the Junior year are devoted to this subject. An accurate conception of the fundamental law is sought as existing in the organism (the school) as a spiritual process. Analytic and synthetic view of the organs of the school in their relations to unity. Examination of the law evolving the organism, culminating in the unifying conditions of the teacher and pupil. Examination of the organism as executing the law. The inter-relation.

Tompkin's School Management.

Class Management.—Junior students who have completed School Management may elect this course. It deals with the principles and practice of the teaching process and affords a valuable preparation for the more advanced Pedagogy of the Middle year.

TEXT: Hamilton's The Recitation.

Psychology.—In the presentation of psychology, the instructor aims at no time to lose sight of the general cultural value of the subject, while his aim is no less pointed in the matter of keeping before the consciousness of the learner the professional value and significance of the subject as the absolute basis of educational doctrine.

The second year is given to this subject.

TEXT: Dewey's Psychology.

Pedagogy.—Students coming into this department have spent years in school as pupils, and some of them have had a few years' experience as teachers. The knowledge of the workings of the schools of their personal experience is made the basis of the discussion of the teaching act. Gradually, there arises in their consciousness the idea of methodical procedure in teaching; and they are, step by step, led to see that all teaching that is in any degree effective conforms to certain underlying principles of mind activity—and this, whether the teacher is conscious or unconscious of the conformity of his procedure to law.

The class, now with a fairly defined, though crude, idea of the movement of the mind through particulars to a general, and its return through the act of apperception to the particular, is required to spend a week, each member making and bringing in to read daily a clear, written statement of individual instruction he can remember having received, that complied or failed to comply with the natural movement of the mind as he now understands it. After full discussion of these comparisons, the class is ready for a more formal statement of the inductive-deductive thought movement in the acquisition and use of knowledge, and through their view of the action of the mind of the learner, they are led to comprehend the function of the teacher in exciting the rational, productive activity of the student; that is, they define teaching in its narrower sense as instruction, and find it to be a rational incitation to growth conforming to necessary laws,—those of apperception and retention. They are reminded of the limitations of this conception, and that from the standpoint of a broader view they will look back upon the function of the teacher with a fuller and clearer understanding of the depth and breadth of its significance in the process of education.

The formal steps of instruction are now introduced, and the fact is pointed out to the class that in their introduction to Pedagogy they have followed along the way of these "steps" up to that of "Application," and that the realization of this step must be in part reserved for the actual work in the practice school. Some work is now done with "method wholes" and the class is led to realize that the four steps that they have taken in the introduction to Pedagogy properly condense into one step (Preparation), and that they are now accordingly prepared to begin the serious study of a text; that is, viewing the whole subject of Pedagogy as a method whole, the class is ready for the second step (Presentation).

This work is pursued during the spring term of the Middle year, and during the fall and winter terms of the Senior year.

As the aim of the department is to leave the student with a clear general notion of the inductive-deductive thought movement—that is, the movement of the mind to the general notion through the study of particulars and its return to particulars in the comprehension of new individuals subsumed under that general—the last term is spent in a study of DeGarmo's "Essentials of Method," a little work that admirably sums up the detailed discussions given in "The Method of the Recitation."

Supplementary Work.—The class is required to read one or two pedagogical works from the library, the books read depending upon what the instructor deems the most essential need of the class. The works read are carefully compared with the regular texts, noting likeness and difference in treatment. An attempt is made to discover upon what, if any, fundamental principles the books read are based.

Thesis.—Each candidate for graduation is required to prepare a thesis on a professional subject. This must be the outgrowth of research, investigation and wide reading, and must indicate some power of original thought. The theses of each year are first presented to the State Board of Examiners, and are afterward bound and placed on the shelves of the library.

History of Education.—This course aims to give students a clear view of the general trend and progress of education; to help them to reason from effects to causes; to aid them in finding significant principles in great educational

in the Red Room

systems; to make some acquaintance with great educational reformers, and to appreciate in some measure the forces that are operative in our own educational era.

TEXT: Painter's History of Education.

Practice Teaching.—The work of practice teaching is recognized as fundamental in all normal schools. Opportunity is here afforded for the normal students to manifest their aptitude to teach and to put into practice the principles and methods of instruction they have been taught. The work in this department at Indiana is divided into two sections—a class in observation and a class in actual practice teaching.

The class in observation is given opportunity to observe teaching done by competent teachers and each student is expected to reproduce the plan of the lesson observed and be prepared to take his part in the discussion which follows. By means of observation and discussion a student becomes thoroughly in sympathy with actual working methods before he is permitted to give instruction himself. During the Senior year, students are expected to devote an hour each day for two terms to practice teaching. These two terms of teaching under the direction of those who are competent to point out defects and suggest their remedies, form one of the most valuable features of our professional course.

Each member is given a class of about twenty-five children, over whom he has entire control, to manage and to teach. The plan of his work is laid out for him and he is left free to execute it in his own way. If he is in doubt in regard to any point, the critic is accessible for consultation. To all intents and purposes the responsibility of the school is his. By means of this system of supervision, serious mistakes are avoided and the student becomes familiar with the best ways and means for accomplishing desired results.

in the

A student can judge of the value of his ideas only when he knows how the children will react to the stimuli presented. The practice school gives him the opportunity of forming these judgments under the most favorable circumstances.

Ethics.—The importance to the teacher of work in Ethics is readily seen from a consideration of the aim and scope of his work. Character perfected involves morality as a factor everywhere present. If the aim of the teacher is to develop the character of the pupil, the teacher who has not a clear knowledge of the moral nature of the man and of the child, and who has not a clear conception of ideals of character and conduct, is unfit for the task.

"As You Like It."
Played in the Grove

When we consider the scope of the work of the teacher, the need for ethical study is evident. The matter of discipline is an ever present task in the teacher's work. The right sort of discipline can be secured only if the teacher has an ideal of the sort of conduct to be expected from the pupil, and an understanding of conditions under which the will of the pupil is best directed toward this ideal. Again, the teacher must prescribe courses of study, and should have a clear comprehension of the benefits to be derived for the character from certain lines of work.

It is upon such grounds as these that the course in Ethics is planned. The course has two parts, theoretical and practical Ethics. First, starting from Psychology, the facts of the moral nature are considered, and ideals of conduct and character are discussed. Second, the work of the teacher in this field is examined, the way in which different subjects of the school curriculum may contribute toward moral development are considered and lesson plans are written and criticised from the point of view of their contribution toward character building.

The courses in Grammar presuppose a foundation in language work. For those who are deficient in the simpler grammatical requirements, there is offered a course preparatory to the study of Grammar in the Junior year. This deals with the parts of speech and their common uses and with the simpler sentence forms.

In the first term's work in Grammar a careful study is made of the uses and inflections of the parts of speech, including such forms as the infinitive, the gerund, and the participle. Frequent analysis of sentences is also given.

The work of the second term deals with word formation and with syntax. Much practice is given in the writing and the analysis of sentences, and especial attention is paid to sentence structure and to the agreement and government of words.

The review of Grammar in the Senior year is designed for advanced students and is a study of the English Grammar in the light of all previous work both in English and other languages. A critical study is made of some English masterpiece. Suggestions as to methods of teaching language are given.

Composition.—The chief aim in the beginning of the course is to overcome the restraint that the student feels in translating his own thoughts and feelings into words. Later we work for accuracy and effectiveness in expression. These are secured by imitation of the best models, and by cultivating the student's taste and his appreciation for the best literature.

D. Daily exercises in written and oral expression on subjects drawn largely from the student's own experience. A careful study of the paragraph.

Readings: Essays of Elia, The Flight of the Duchess, The Gold Bug.

C. Short themes in description, narration and exposition, with special study of the paragraph, of sentence structure and of figures of speech.

Readings: Sir Roger de Coverley, The Passing of Arthur.

B. Short themes and longer monthly themes giving practice in the four forms of discourse. Conciseness and effectiveness will be the special aims of this course and the course in Rhetoric following it.

Readings: Treasure Island or Silas Marner.

Rhetoric.—A study of the nature of rhetorical principles as common sense rules which apply to other arts as well as writing; the preparation of briefs, and of themes on abstract subjects.

Readings: Selections from English and American Classics.

Literature.—An attempt is made to give by lecture, outline, and recitation the different periods of English and American Literature, the limits and leading characteristics of each period, with the most important details of the personal life of representative writers. The intimate connection of literature with the social, political and intellectual life of the nation of which it is the product and expression are kept in mind. The aim of our brief course is not chiefly to supply the student with knowledge, but, also, to refine his thought and feeling, to create a taste and enthusiasm for reading, and to leave him with a love for the best things, with some knowledge of principles by which he can determine what is best.

In connection with the lives of their authors there is a careful reading of many individual Poems.—Goldsmith, Burns, Coleridge, Wordsworth, Byron, Tennyson. —of Essays, Novels, Orations,—and at least one of Shakespeare's Dramas.

Students preparing for college cover the work prescribed for college entrance, comprising the careful study of five Classics and the reading of ten others.

Required for Study and Practice: (1907-8).

Burke's Speech on Conciliation or Washington's Farewell Address and Webster's First Bunker Hill Oration, Macaulay's Life of Johnson,
Shakespeare's Macbeth,
Milton's Minor Poems.

Required for Reading and Practice:

Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice,
Shakespeare's As You Like It,
Franklin's Autobiography,
Goldsmith's Deserted Village,
Hawthorne's House of Seven Gables,
Scott's Ivanhoe,
Lamb's Essays of Elia,
Ruskin's Sesame and Lilies,
Scott's The Lady of the Lake,
Tennyson's Idylls of the King.

Logic.—The English course is completed by a study of Argumentation, covering Brief-drawing and Argumentative Composition. The student is practiced in the processes of Argumentation by being set to work to exercise his reasoning power on familiar material. The aim is to form in him the habit of looking at a subject in a purposeful way with a sense of the structure of the whole composition, to aid him in his development from the acquisition stage into reflective, modifying, originating power.

One who has not a clear conception of logical arrangement of subject matter, of cogent reasoning and of valid reasoning as distinguished from false reasoning, and of the use of terms, can not argue so effectively as he might if he had such knowledge.

The course in Logic includes an examination of some of the masterpieces of argumentation from the point of view of logical structure and other principles. It includes also a careful study of the thought processes of conception, judgment and reasoning. Practice in reasoning and in construction of speeches is given throughout the course.

Expression.—In its largest sense, Expression is the manifestation of life, mind and soul in and through the body. It is necessary, then, that this natural medium that God has given us for the expression of ourselves, as well as the thoughts of others, should be cultivated and developed. The first object of this department is, therefore, to awaken the student; to free him from all constrained, limited, and erroneous habits of thought, action and voice; to open his avenues of expression, and to give him a knowledge and control of his agents of expression. We seek to make a well-disciplined physical organism, the servant of a well stored and cultivated mind.

The teacher more than any other public worker should have a free and intelligent voice and body, a voice and body that respond instantly to the expression of his thoughts and feelings.

It is the object of this department, in the second place, to enable the student to comprehend, appreciate, and communicate thought in the most natural and effective manner.

Aside from the regular class work done in this department, a large amount of public work is carried on through the Literary Societies of the school. The Society Contest, a very interesting and exciting feature along this line of work, affords excellent opportunities for platform artists to prove their ability. The plays given by the Societies each year are a very strong feature of this work, and through them much progress is made along the lines of Dramatic Art.

Department of History and Geography

MR. HECKEL,

MISS BARTON

United States History

- Courses.* Junior year.
- 1st History.
- 2d History.

Text Book. Essentials in American History—Hart.

Requirements. Graduates of High Schools not accredited may enter 2d History. Non-graduates may enter 2d History after passing a satisfactory examination in 1st History.

The work in U. S. History extends through two terms in the Junior year. The aim in this study is to familiarize the student with the development of the American nation, and to prepare him to teach American History in the grade schools. The inter-relation of Geography and History is carefully noted, and the industrial, educational and social growth is studied along with the political and constitutional growth. The work is supplemented by as much research work in the library as is possible in the time allotted to the study. Some time is given to current history, this part of the work being done by means of special topics.

English History.—Senior elective.

Text Book: Essentials in English History—Walker.

The chief interest in the study of the History of England is found in its constitutional aspect. The English constitution is a product of the slow growth of the English people through several centuries. It has furnished a model for the constitutions of many other nations. In order to be in complete harmony with his environment, it is necessary for the American of today to understand the origin and growth of our social and political institutions and tendencies. In teaching English History, special emphasis is put on the fact that our American civilization comes largely from English beginnings.

A syllabus containing outlines and readings is used as a guide in the course.

The work in the General History and English History classes consists of lectures by the instructor, class-room discussions based on collateral reading and sources, papers by the students, and weekly quizzes.

Civics.—Junior year.

Text Book: Rights and Duties of American Citizenship—Willoughby.

The student is given some knowledge of the nature of political authority. He is led to an understanding of citizenship and government in general, before taking up the study of our complex government. The rise of the nation is considered. A study of the history of the constitutional conventions is made. A review of the text of the constitution, the meaning of the terms employed, together with the historical incidents to which they refer, are made prominent. The framework of the government—both National and State—is examined.

Geography

Courses. 1st Geography.
2d Geography.

Text Books.

Physical Geography—Dryer.
Advanced Geography—Dodge.

Requirements. Graduates of High Schools not accredited may enter 2d Geography, provided they have studied Physical Geography in their High School course. If not, they will enter 1st Geography or take Physical Geography by a special examination. Non-graduates may enter 2d Geography after passing a satisfactory examination in 1st Geography.

Physical Geography.—The student takes up the study of Physical Geography in the first term's work. In pursuing this study, the fact is kept in mind that the majority of the students have as yet little, if any, knowledge of Physics, Chemistry, etc., and, therefore, no attempt is made to burden their minds with those features of the study which they cannot grasp and understand. Yet, though the causes of certain important facts may be complicated, as in the case with the atmospheric circulation; or unknown, as in the configuration of the continents and in the uplift and depression of the lands; and the consequences of other facts may be indirect or remote; nevertheless, these facts are so inherently Physiographic, that they are treated as fully as the circumstances will permit, leaving the more complex features for the student's later comprehension.

In all this work, attention is frequently directed to the association of human conditions with the environment by which they have been determined, in order to form in the student the habit of looking upon the physical features of the earth in their relation to the progress and development of mankind.

During this term, sufficient time is put on Mathematical Geography to give the pupil a clear grasp of the elementary phenomena connected therewith.

The study of the text is illumined by such field work as is possible, by the use of pictures, diagrams, maps, globes, and the apparatus at hand.

Descriptive Geography.—This course embraces a complete study of local and general descriptive geography, together with a discussion of those methods best fitted for the use of the teacher in presenting the subject in the various grades. The work may be divided into two parts—the Academic and the Pedagogical.

Academic Work.—In this part of the work the aim is to ground the pupil thoroughly in the facts of descriptive and political geography. The method pursued, in the main, is what is known as the tracing and topical method as laid down by the best writers on geography. Map-drawing is a constant feature of the work. The work is enriched, as much as possible, by pictures, specimens of various products of different countries, etc. Careful attention is paid to what might be called up-to-date geography, it being deemed worth while that the pupil should form the habit of keeping abreast of present geographical progress. The fact is kept constantly in mind that Geography and History should closely correlate, and, therefore, in the study of the former, the pupil's attention is called to many facts and features which will serve to throw light upon the study of the latter.

Pedagogical Work.—It being deemed that the class-work is, of itself, "a living example" of the best methods to use in presenting advanced geography, the time allotted to this branch of the work is given over to a study of the best method of teaching geography in the lower grades.

When and how to begin the subject, how best to teach the fundamental ideas of direction, distance, etc., value of map-drawing, the sand-table and other features of the work, are taken up, studied and discussed. A "working outline" for actual use in the school room is supposed to be one of the fruits of this course. This work will be presented to the class through dictation and discussion.

A fine set of wall maps, a globe, sand-table, charts and other accessories are at the command of the teacher of this subject.

Geology.—In Political Geography we have studied the earth with regard to man's activities upon it—cities, farms, factories; in Physical Geography we have considered the earth as the home of man, and learned of its surface preparation for man's use; in Geology we go deeper, and study the origin of the world, its varying forms, and its gradual evolution from primeval fire-mist to a stable foundation for man's multitudinous labors and investigations.

Science and Revelation unite in declaring the world to have been at first "without form, and void;" then that there gradually appeared the waters; then above these, lands arose to view; later came elementary life-forms of plant and of animal life; finally, when all was ready, man, the master, entered upon his inheritance.

We first consider Geology physiographically, and review our Physical Geography study; then comes Lithological Geology, the examination of rocks and minerals and soils, their condition, structure, and arrangement; next Dynamical Geology, treating of the causes of geological events, of the forces which produce earth changes,—atmosphere, heat, water, life, etc.; finally, Historical Geology, when earth's pages have been scanned to learn of the successive time-stages when rock layers were laid, and plants, animals and man appeared.

"He looks abroad into the varied field
Of Nature, and, though poor, perhaps, compared
With those whose mansions glitter in his sight,
Calls the delightful scenery all his own.
His are the mountains, and the valleys his,
But who, with filial confidence inspired,
Can lift to Heaven an unpresumptuous eye,
And smiling say, 'My Father made them all.' "

General History. —Two terms of the Middle year.

1st. Ancient History.

Text Book: Outlines of Ancient History—Morey.

2d. Mediæval and Modern History.

Text Book: Essentials in Mediæval and Modern History—Harding.

This course is open to those who have completed the American History. It affords the opportunity to look upon history as a whole, and a constant effort is made to impress the student with the continuity of the growth of mankind in civilization.

The aim in this department is not only to familiarize the student with historical facts, but also to develop the historical imagination. To accomplish this, constant reference is made to primary sources. A text book is used as the basis of the study, but there is a considerable amount of prescribed collateral reading for every lesson. The student is required to draw maps frequently so that he may get a clear picture of those physical features that form the permanent framework by which he will later determine changing political boundaries and movements.

Department of Greek and Latin

MISS WEAVER

The number of students preparing for college has steadily increased during the last few years. Vassar, Wellesley, Mt. Holyoke, Lafayette, Washington and Jefferson, Westminster, State and other colleges, receive students upon our certificate. Our students have been very successful in the Princeton entrance examinations.

Latin.—The “Roman” pronunciation is used.

In the Junior year two terms are spent on Smiley and Storke’s Beginners’ Latin Book.

It is here the aim thoroughly to ground the student in the Latin forms and inflections, and in the general principles of Latin syntax. It is desired that the student have a good knowledge of English before taking up this branch, since the idioms of the two languages are constantly compared.

In the Middle year three terms are devoted to Books I, II, and III of Caesar. Here, in addition to the literal and free translation of the text, there is constant drill in the use and force of the cases, the modes and tenses, of the principles of indirect discourse, of the gerund and gerundive constructions, of the ablative absolute, in the derivation of words, and in the analysis of sentences. Some time is spent in a careful study of Caesar’s life and of the Roman life of his time.

The Senior year continues with one term on Cicero’s orations (First three against Cataline), and two terms on Virgil’s Aeneid (Books I-III). In connection, Latin composition is studied.

In reading poetry, sufficient attention is paid to the laws of versification to enable the student to scan the poetry he reads.

Men's Dormitory
(Silas M. Clark Hall)

For those who desire to take it, a year of advanced work is given. During this year the work covers three orations of Cicero (IV against Cataline, Archias, and Manilian Law), and Virgil's Aeneid (Books IV-VI). In the spring term there is offered an additional course in Latin Prose Composition.

Preparatory students are given any additional course required by the Institution to which entrance is sought.

Greek.—It is the aim not only to implant a thorough knowledge of the forms and principles of syntax, but also by means of reading at sight and other exercises, to enable the student to use the language in a practical way. In this way the student comes to look upon Greek not as a “dead” language, made up of a mass of forms and rules, but as a legacy of a cultured people.

The reading of the Greek authors includes Xenophon's Anabasis and Homer's Iliad. If desired, other authors may be studied. In connection with these, the history and customs of the Greek people are taken up. Exercises in writing Greek are kept up by the use of Pearson's Greek Prose Composition.

Preparatory students are given the amount of Latin and Greek required by the Institution to which entrance is sought.

Department of Modern Languages

MISS SHERRILL.

It is the aim of this department not only to give the student a thorough drill in forms and inflections, but also to enable him to make practical use of the spoken and written language.

German.—In the first year special emphasis is laid upon pronunciation, the inflection of the noun and adjective, the conjugation of strong and weak verbs, the use of the modal auxiliary, the principles of word order; some time is given to easy German conversation based upon the selections read.

TEXTS: Joynes-Meissner's Grammar; Guerbber's "Märchen und Erzählungen;" Storm's "Immensee;" Heyse's "L'Arraliata."

The second year is devoted to composition, Advanced Grammar and Syntax, copious reading and a critical study of German authors, including a few lyrics, and to German conversation based upon the works read.

TEXTS: Joynes-Meissner's Grammar; Wesselhoeft's German Composition; Auerbach's "Brigitta;" Seidel's "Leberecht Hühnchen;" Lessing's "Minna v. Barnhelm;" Schiller's "Jungfrau v. Orleans."

Opportunity is given for continuing German a third year.

Three
Well-known
Japs

French.—Special stress is laid upon pronunciation, idiom, the inflection of the verb, and the essential principles of syntax. Much time is given to reading in French, translation at sight and to practice in conversation.

TEXTS: Béziat de Bordes' "Elements of French;" Super's French Reader; Labiche's "La Grammaire;" About's "La Mire de la Marquise."

Department of Mathematics

MISS CHESEBROUGH

MR. GORDON

MR. PIERCE

Arithmetic.—The work in Arithmetic is designed to prepare the student for subsequent work in Mathematics or for teaching in the public schools. It also gives him a practical knowledge of the subject and prepares him for business life. The subject is made clear through the use of concrete and practical problems.

The subject of Arithmetic is covered in three terms and the work is approximately as follows:

1st Term—Practical Problems, greatest common divisor and least common multiple, common and decimal fractions, denominate numbers and measurements, analysis, longitude and time.

2d Term—Percentage and applications, square and cube root.

3d Term—Subject reviewed and completed.

Senior Year—Review and preparation for State Board Examinations.

A Group

Japanese Girl"
—Operetta

Algebra.—The object of this course in Algebra is to give the student a thorough knowledge of the principles of elementary Algebra and much work in practical applications thereof. This thoroughness of the course is desirable both for the students who expect to teach in the public schools and for those desiring to do advanced work. The work is planned to assist the student in his further study of Mathematics and the study of the Physical Sciences. The culture value of Algebra is recognized and the student is led to realize the beauties of the subject.

Algebra is a three term subject and the work is approximately as follows:

1st Term—Fundamental operations, equations, and factoring.

2d Term—Fractions, simultaneous equations, practical problems, involution and evolution.

3d Term—Theory of indices, radicals, quadratic equations, practical problems, imaginaries, and progressions.

Grove in Front
of
Training School

All students are required to take the work in Algebra except those who can furnish evidence that they have already satisfactorily done the work. A new class in Algebra is organized every term.

Geometry.—The required work in Geometry covers the ground outlined in Wentworth's Plane Geometry. Solid Geometry which is given in the Senior year is based on Wentworth's Solid Geometry.

The body of geometrical truth is an organized structure, the careful study of which has ever been a stimulus and a discipline to those who have pursued it. The prospective teacher receives a training which is essential in his work as a teacher and in the pursuit of scientific studies. Among the mental and moral qualities which it is the aim of this course to develop are the following: Initiative, self-reliance, and the ability to cope with a new situation. The study of Geometry develops the habit of accurate reasoning, the habit of looking confidently for the solution of every problem, including those of every-day life, of discriminating between the essential features of a problem and those which are not essential.

After a thorough study of the demonstrations of the author, the student takes up the demonstration of the original exercises. These he is able, with a few suggestions, to deal with; this gives him self-reliance and power and he proceeds confidently and accurately. Such a course as this gives the student a mind trained to meet the problems which confront the teacher.

Trigonometry and Surveying.—One term is devoted to Trigonometry and one to Surveying. The Trigonometry is Plane Trigonometry. The work includes the study and use of logarithms, sufficient study of the triangle to prepare for Surveying, the development of the formulas, and practical applications.

The term devoted to Surveying involves the study of the theory of Surveying, but the greater part of the work is actual practice in the field with surveyor's

Among the Campus
Flower Beds

instruments. The students, after some elementary work, run boundary lines, keep notes of all work, and then reduce their observations.

Higher Mathematics.—Any one desiring may elect courses in College Algebra, Analytic Geometry, and Calculus.

Department of Science

MR. HICKMAN

MR. JAMES

It is the object of this department to secure to the pupil the distinctive advantages which result from correct Science study. These we believe to be the power to observe quickly, clearly and comprehensively, and the ability to deduce legitimate conclusions from the observations thus made. With these ends in view it is the aim rarely to tell the pupil what he can find out for himself by observation or experiment.

The whole department is now in new quarters designed especially for this kind of work. The laboratories are completely equipped with up-to-date laboratory furniture. Much new apparatus has been added to both the Physical and Chemical laboratories, greatly increasing the value of the work done in this department.

Botany.—In the study of Botany an amount of text book work sufficient to acquire the necessary technical terms and fundamental principles is required. But the greater part of the work consists in a close study of the types of the most important orders. Special attention is paid to structure and function as affected by environment, and to the inter-relations of the animal and plant worlds.

Large tables have been placed in the class room where the pupils may perform their dissection and analysis under the guidance of the instructor. The student is required to collect, analyze, classify and mount a number of specimens of local flora

Note books are used in which the student keeps a faithful record of his observations and deductions.

Zoology.—This biological subject is studied in much the same manner as Botany—recitation from text book; individual laboratory work, taking up the larger type forms; and field work.

Each student makes his own dissections, keeps a faithful record of actual observations in note books, and mounts specimens collected from excursions in the vicinity. He is taught to infer habit from structure, and see life relationships, and the economic value of our fauna.

A well lighted laboratory, special tables, large tank for living material, aquariums for observing the early development of certain familiar animals, a cabinet of mounted specimens—all contribute to an interest and efficiency in the object.

In the

Physics.—The course in Physics extends through the Fall and Winter terms of the Senior year. All divisions of the subject are covered except Magnetism and Electricity, which is continued in the Spring term, as elective work. The aim is to cultivate a keen understanding and appreciation of common natural phenomena, and a deep sympathy for what is scientific in a scientific age.

The method used is to combine recitations with as much individual laboratory work as possible. Class demonstrations and practical problems in the different topics supplement and fix the theory. At least twenty-five experiments illustrative of fundamental principles are required. The experiments are performed individually by the student and carefully recorded in special note books.

The large and well lighted laboratory has been planned and built along modern lines, and is equipped throughout with new laboratory furniture and apparatus. The tables are provided with uprights and adjustable bars; and the apparatus comprises many costly pieces, while others, though verifying fundamental laws, are yet so simple as to be easily duplicated by our graduates in schools lacking facilities, and in their teaching of Elementary Science and Nature Study.

Students taking the full year's work are admitted on certificate and the presentation of the note books to our leading colleges.

Human Physiology.—The study of Physiology comprises one term's work in

Another View
in the

the Junior year. This being the first science work which our students take up, it serves as an introduction to scientific methods of thinking and feeling. Our students have seen few scientific experiments performed and have performed still fewer themselves. The method of teaching to, which they have been accustomed is the didactic. These facts largely govern the mode of presentation. So far as the size of the class and the time available permits, the students perform the experiments themselves and draw their own conclusions. Here they are led to depend on their own eyes and fingers.

Rather more attention is devoted to the Chemistry of Physiology and to the subject of Hygiene than to Anatomy. In the lectures and talks by the instructor to the students, the attention of the latter is drawn to the experiences of the race in the matter of food, drink, and raiment; and they are led to attach importance to the lessons which the race has learned in these matters. In all the work the cheerful sides of Physiology and Hygiene are emphasized and the morbid sides kept in the background.

Chemistry.—The required work in Chemistry covers a period of two terms. The student begins the study of this science in the Middle year, after completing such study of Physiology and Elementary Mathematics as may have served to introduce him to the principles of scientific thinking, preparing his mind for the reception of the more complex ideas involved.

The course offered covers the field of General Chemistry, about the work given in Remsen's "Elements of Chemistry," Revised Edition. Recitation work is supplemented by lectures by the instructor on the more abstract parts of the subject discussed in the text. These lectures, or talks, enable the instructor to keep in touch with the student's progress and to lead him into the subject as the best text is not able to do. Regular hours are assigned for laboratory work and the student's note book is written up and examined. The laboratory is newly furnished and supplied with modern conveniences. Each student is supplied with a desk and the necessary apparatus to pursue his studies..

The aim of this course is to give the student some concept of the large part which Chemistry is playing in our industrial and social life, to impress on the student the value of the subject in bringing us in touch with the world's work in many fields, and to enable him to see the aesthetic side of scientific truths. The fundamental character of Chemistry in Nature Study is made clear and experiments are selected to aid him in teaching that subject. That Chemistry is a rapidly developing subject is kept in view, and references cursorily had to the progress making.

Supplementing the work in General Chemistry, is offered an elective course in Qualitative Analysis of unknown solutions of metallic salts, this work being continued until the student has mastered the methods employed for the detection of the Metallic Groups. The course is completed by analysis of dry salts, the methods of detecting non-metallic elements being best made clear by this means.

A Class in Drawing

The work in Chemistry is concluded by a course in Quantitative Analysis, during which analyses of less complex rocks, alloys and ores follow quantitative determinations of simple salts by Gravimetric methods. This course should be preceded by instruction in the Elements of Physics.

A student who has completed the work offered should be able to step into the field of Practical Chemistry, and some of our graduates now hold valuable positions in this line.

The courses in this department comply with the entrance requirements of Wellesley, Smith, Princeton and other colleges. Many of our graduates are teaching Science subjects in High Schools, while others hold good positions with industrial corporations.

Department of Drawing

MISS McELHANEY

"As we increase the range of what we see, we increase the richness of what we can imagine."

In ancient Greece the love of beauty was so paramount and the skill in producing it in all the arts so general that even the fishermen who dried their nets on the rocks at Piræus were as good critics of a statue or a poem as our best educated are today.

Art is again becoming general and popular, but it is cramped and dwarfed to the level of the popular capacity and must progress slowly until it receives its due from the people, who have taken the work of the world into their hands—who, through diffusion of knowledge, have come to an appreciation of what the beautiful is, why it is, and its true place in life.

Elementary Drawing.—Two terms. Required in the Elementary Normal Course and designed to meet the needs of all teachers in the public schools. This includes elementary principles of type forms, light and shade, form and color, modern free hand perspective, lettering, design, and study of artists. Mediums—pencil, charcoal, and water color.

Supervisors' Course.—Three terms. This course is for those students who desire to fit themselves for teaching in better positions in the city schools, where more preparation and skill are required than can be secured in the above course; for those who wish to become special teachers of drawing; and for those who wish to prepare for entrance to professional training schools.

Secretary's

To finish this course students must complete the work of the Junior year and must have some work in plane geometry.

This course includes observation and practice in the Model School. There are many demands for graduates who can take charge of, or supervise, both drawing and music in the public schools.

Advanced Drawing.—Three terms. "Without peace and pleasureableness in occupation, no design."

Recognizing that the study of art should be broad and comprehensive, this opportunity is given to students as a means of supplementing the work of the former courses, as well as a means of culture and a training that shall lead to fitness in the choice of life work.

The work is along the same lines as the Elementary Course and includes such work as may be given in the better high schools and some technical schools.

Special attention is given to composition, constructive work, design, leather work—tooled and illuminated.

Although the course covers three terms, students having completed the Elementary Course may enter the class at the beginning of any term.

Department of Manual Training

MR. VAN OOT

Manual training is not, as some suppose, a study of the elements of certain

The Principal's

trades; but a good course in Manual Training is invaluable as a preparation for any trade or profession. The object of the student in Manual Training is not so much to learn how to perform certain operations as it is to think and modify knowledge from any source and adapt and apply it to the work in hand in a practical and efficient manner. It is only those who can apply this knowledge thus that have received a satisfactory educational training, and the demand for this class of people as teachers and in all other lines of activity is greater than the supply.

The state requirement in Manual Training in the regular normal course is one term. This term of work is devoted to the construction of such objects as will give the student a broad knowledge of the principles involved in wood construction and finishing. Each student is furnished with a blue print of the

Craft Work,
Manual Training

object to be constructed, thus correlating by application his Mechanical Drawing and Manual Training. After having satisfactorily completed the prescribed course of study, students are allowed to construct one larger article of furniture, such as a table, a tabouret, a magazine rack, a music cabinet, etc., particular attention being given to the manner of original design and workmanship in construction and finishing. The educational value of Manual Training is kept constantly in mind as the chief end and aim of the subject.

Knife work, basketry, clay modeling, wood carving and other light forms of work are provided as a substitute for bench work whenever this seems best.

Supervisors' Course in Manual Training

This course is designed to prepare students for supervising and teaching Manual Training in the public schools. This course consists of the work required for entrance to the Middle Class with the Plane Geometry, Botany, Physics, Trigonometry, Psychology, and Methods of the regular normal course, and the special work of this supervisor's course in Manual Training added.

To pass this special work in Manual Training the graduate must prove his ability to plan and skillfully execute graded courses in the best forms of hand work for each of the grades of an approved system of public schools; teach the work of at least two grades one term each; learn the care and uses of all the common tools and materials; take notes and prepare quizzes on a course of lectures dealing with the use and history of all the tools; the manufacture and composition of finishing materials; the principles of building construction; the preparation, characteristics and properties of different kinds of wood; the correlation of Manual Training and other subjects; and many other questions arising out of the work.

Drawing will be strictly correlated with all of the laboratory work in Manual Training, and all students will be required to make a satisfactory draft before beginning the construction of any project, and to hold strictly to the draft in their construction; further, they will be required to prepare a thesis of at least six pages.

Department of Physical Culture

Miss Peale.

During the winter term all the young ladies living in the dormitory are required to take a regular course in Physical Culture.

The department aims to develop and preserve the physical powers in order that the student may be better able to complete the work of the course.

Indoor and outdoor gymnastic games are encouraged. Basket-ball and other indoor games are enjoyed by many of the young ladies during the winter term.

Scope and Function of the Training School

The training department consists of a school of about two hundred twenty-five students. These are carefully divided into eight grades corresponding to the grades of the most approved elementary schools of the country, and an advanced or sub-normal class composed of those who have completed the regular Model School Course and are prepared to take up some of the branches included in the prescribed work of the Junior year.

The regular work of the school is systematically supervised by four trained and experienced critic teachers. They are responsible for the progress of the children and the training of the pupil teachers. The special work in music, drawing and manual training is under the direction and control of specialists in these branches.

Wilson Hall, a modern building and one of the most attractive on the campus, is given over entirely to the use of this department. It is commodious, conveniently located, and is well equipped for the purpose which it fills.

All the work of the pedagogical department centers in the training school. Its purpose is to afford the members of the Senior class an opportunity to put into practice the principles of education which have been emphasized throughout the entire course, to send them out with a very practical knowledge of the theory and art of teaching, and with the confidence and judgment which arise from actual experience in the school room.

To this end each candidate for graduation is required to teach at least two terms satisfactorily in the Model School. The work is so arranged that experience is gained in both the primary and grammar departments.

Students begin their observation and practice work in the Senior year. A class numbering from fifteen to twenty children is assigned to each for a period of twelve or fifteen weeks. The Seniors then report to the critic teacher to whose department their work belongs. Instructions are given with regard to the general management of the class, the work to be covered, use and care of materials, methods to be employed, hours for criticism, and the various duties incidental to the actual teaching.

The pupil teachers are required to write out plans for the daily lesson. These plans are submitted to the critic teachers and are carefully examined and corrected the day before the lesson is presented. They are written in accordance with the following outline:

- | | |
|------------|---------------------------|
| *I Aims. | II Illustrative Material. |
| a General. | III Basis. |
| b Special. | IV Subject Matter—Method. |

The plans should show most clearly that the teacher understands the child, his interests, capacity and limitations. They should show that she understands the subject to be taught and the end and aim in presenting it. They should indicate that she is acquainted with the child's past experience and properly in order that there may be a development of the power to speak without effort and with freedom from grammatical errors, popular slang, and the crude provincialisms to which the average American is prone.

For the reason that oral speech is used to the greatest extent, oral language training should predominate. Every teacher in every recitation will prove herself an efficient ally of the language teacher if she will insist upon good English in response to every question asked. The result will be manifest in the formation of right habits of speech. In fact, this is an imperative condition to the accomplishment of the aim of the school in this direction.

The course of study indicates the general character of the work. The lessons may be divided into three classes—conversational, formal and written. In the seventh year the study of English grammar is begun.

In the conversation lessons the pupils are required to reproduce stories which they have heard or read, to describe places which they have visited, to narrate adventures in which they have taken part, or to enter into discussion or debate on some question of interest to them as individuals or as a school. The impromptu dramatization of stories leads to a vigorous style and is a splendid means of arousing the imagination and increasing the child's vocabulary.

The written exercises are frequent but short. A child loses interest and zest if he is required to write too much. He becomes fatigued and as a result does careless work, thus defeating the purpose of the lesson. Nearly all written exercises are done in the school under the watchful eye of the teacher. In the lower grades sentence work only is required; gradually the pupils gain the power to reproduce the stories of the reading and literature lessons, and to write up the accounts of the imaginary journeys in geography. They keep a journal, a weather record, a notebook for their observations in nature study and their themes in history. Finally they arrive at the stage of original composition. No slovenly work is accepted. Little rewriting is permitted. The first draft must represent the best effort of which the pupil is capable.

Formal language lessons are few in number. Under this head the dictates of custom in punctuation, capitalization and sentence structure may be considered.

Although the study of grammar is deferred until the seventh year, the more common grammatical terms may be used freely as occasion requires much earlier in the course.

Nature Study

The work in Nature Study is based on the child's observation and experience. All reading that is done in connection with this subject follows, not precedes, original investigation.

The materials are the every day natural surroundings of the child, seen so far as possible in their natural environment. In determining the order of subjects and the method followed, the teacher should be guided very largely by the season of the year and the stage of development of the pupil.

of custom in punctuation, capitalization and sentence structure may be considered.

Although the study of grammar is deferred until the seventh year, the more common grammatical terms may be used freely as occasion requires much earlier in the course.

Nature Study

The work in Nature Study is based on the child's observation and experience. All reading that is done in connection with this subject follows, not precedes, original investigation.

The materials are the every day natural surroundings of the child, seen so far as possible in their natural environment. In determining the order of subjects and the method followed, the teacher should be guided very largely by the season of the year and the stage of development of the pupil.

The purpose of Nature study may be stated briefly as follows:

It develops the perceptive faculties, strengthens the imagination and develops the reflective powers.

It aims to cultivate the aesthetic sense.

It gives "an insight into the laws of Nature and teaches the child to make use of these laws in answering his reasonable needs."

It inculcates moral and spiritual lessons, leading to greater sympathy, kindness and consideration.

Geography

"Geography is the study of the earth as the home of man." In presenting the subject the teacher should choose topics which will lead the pupil to see how races and people have been affected by natural environment, and how natural conditions have been and may be changed and modified to best serve the interests of mankind.

The method chosen should be one calculated to develop the power of reasoning from cause to effect, the ability to see relations, and the faculty of correct judgment. In this subject, as perhaps in no other, is there an opportunity to add to knowledge, to give breadth of thought, a wider experience, greater tolerance and liberality, and therefore a more profound culture.

History

The outline which follows later indicates the scope of the work in this subject. The presentation should be original, broad and vigorous. The great lessons drawn from a consideration of the records of past events should find expression in the life and conduct of the citizens of the future. "It is the aim of history instruction to socialize a child; that is, to make him more regardful of the interests of others, less stubborn and isolated in his individuality; that is, less selfish."

In the lower grades the lessons in history are presented in story form. The children are required to reproduce what has been told and to exercise their thought power at every possible opportunity. In the seventh grade the more formal study of history is begun.

In all grades the children are required to study maps in connection with this subject. They are required to sketch freely, to indicate movements of armies, and to locate places of historical interest.

Supplementary reading is provided, the teacher drawing upon the best literature for incidents and descriptions which will make the lessons vivid and impressive. Pictures are used to show the mode of dress and manners and customs of the people of different periods.

Much attention is given to the details of the development of civilization, and strong emphasis is placed upon the industrial, social and moral relations of mankind.

Arithmetic

“Unless there is to be arrested development, when the child enters school, some function must be found with reference to which he may utilize his ability to count—the number sense becomes vitalized and truly educative at this point by being largely directed towards the definition of values in the form of measurements.”

In the first grade the exercises are chiefly counting and making comparisons, and number teaching is incidental to practically all subjects taught. In the second grade more stress is placed upon number as a differentiated study, and from this time on it occupies its separate and distinctive place on the daily program.

The work in the lower classes is very largely objective and many illustrative devices are used. Stress is placed upon fundamental combinations and processes. These must be thoroughly mastered, as they constitute the foundation upon which the entire superstructure of mathematics rests.

Oral work is prominent in all grades. It includes the development of definitions, processes, and forms and exercises in reasoning and determining results with accuracy and rapidity. All work of this kind is reasonably simple and of such nature as will be suggested by the interests and demands of daily life. The teacher must see that all statements made by the children are in clear, smooth and correct English.

In all the written work sufficient attention must be given to forms of expression to insure accuracy in thought, and to teach the importance of system and neatness. There must be a constant stimulus to accurate, rapid and independent work.

It is not deemed necessary to spend any great amount of time upon “over-difficult and complicated problems and obsolete topics not needed in modern life,” but every possible application should be made to existing conditions— industrial, governmental, commercial, and social.

Spelling

Every class is a spelling class in the sense that the teacher of each subject should see to it that the pupils spell correctly the important words used in each lesson. Oral spelling should precede written exercises of any nature in order that the children may be prevented from writing words incorrectly and thus becoming impressed with wrong forms.

The spelling lesson has a definite place on the daily program, and lists of words suggested by the needs of each class may be supplemented by lists of carefully graded words chosen from the spelling book regularly used.

Diacritical marking and syllabication are important phases of the work.

Material.—The first reading lessons should be based upon observations of Nature and upon poems and stories used in same connection; also stories told for the sake of their literary or ethical merit may be employed in the same manner.

Texts—The Arnold Primer—Silver, Burdett & Co.; Stepping Stones to Literature—Silver, Burdett & Co.; Sunbonnet Babies—Rand McNally Co.; Cyr's Dramatic Readers—Ginn & Co.; Cyr's Primer—Ginn & Co.; Mother Goose Melodies (Dramatized by Children).

Place Work

In the first two grades no special period is set apart for Geography, but all necessary ideas, as direction, points of the compass, location, seasons, prevailing winds, etc., are taught incidentally with Nature and Literature. Forms of water are observed and in connection with their study many beautiful poems and songs are taught. Field lessons afford opportunities for observing Land and Water forms, which may be reproduced on the Sand Table.

Nature Study

The children must have an opportunity of studying the actual living specimens. Many of the specimens will live and grow in the school room. Short excursions on the grounds or to the woods are absolutely necessary. The language and drawing may be profitably based on this work.

Number

Children entering the first grade have already a considerable stock of number ideas. The number sense is then quite alert. The teacher should see that none of this is lost, but that the development thus indicated continues rationally without break. The first exercises should be counting and making comparisons.

Material Needed.

Blocks, splints, spools, acorns, horse chestnuts, shells, etc., are valuable for counting. Every child should have a foot rule, marked in inches for measuring, and objects of various sizes for comparison.

1. Counting.—In counting, the child gets an idea of the whole, the parts, and the how many.

Idea of measurement developed.

1. An unknown quantity is given to the child, as 12 blocks. Separate them into two equal parts; then combine parts to make the whole.

Idea broadened.

1. Measurement of length.

Idea of Unit made more definite.

Idea of "times" emphasized.

Symmetrical grouping of objects with symbols.

Recognition of a unity at a glance as measured by its smallest unit without counting.

2. Systematic Work with quantities as represented by figures.

Simple work with two, three, four, etc., as far as ten. This work should be parting and wholing—separate 8 into two parts, each part into two parts, and so on; then recombine by twos.

Notation of numbers to 100.

3. Outline.

Reading and writing numbers to 100.

First twenty-five combinations of two numbers whose sum does not exceed ten.

Correct oral expressions of simple addition, subtraction, multiplication and division facts.

Perception of $\frac{1}{4}$, $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{3}{4}$ with symbols.

Inch, 2 inches, 3 inches to 12 inches.

Industrial Work

Motor expression in Reading, Nature Study, Literature and History

Reading

Third Year

During this year pupils should read at least three Third Readers, together with such supplementary readers as may be correlated with their work in nature study, history, geography and literature.

At the end of the year pupils should be able to read readily and in pleasing style, matter within their comprehension in thought and language.

Texts:

Household Stories.—Klingensmith.

Robinson Crusoe.—Baldwin.

Mother Goose Village.—Bigham.

Fifty Famous Stories.—Baldwin.

Literature

In the third grade we wish to bring a number of mythical stories vividly before the children; therefore, we base the work on Hawthorne's "Wonder Book," using three periods a week during the winter term. The best stories for use in this grade are, The Golden Touch, The Miraculous Pitcher, The Gorgon's Head.

"These stories introduce to the children the company of simple, but great characters, whose deeds of generosity and unselfishness are the climax of the stories." "These early myths afford also an interesting approach to the history and geography of many important countries." The children should be led to see that these stories are made up of several shorter stories, which they may name for themselves.

Other literature suitable for use in this grade:

Aesop's Fables; Story of Joseph.—Bible.

Memory Work:

September—Helen Hunt Jackson; One, Two, Three—H. C. Bunner; How the Leaves Came Down—Susan Coolidge; The Wise Fairy—Alice Cary; The Miller of the Dee—Charles Mackay; The Child's World—Lilliput Lectures; A Visit from St. Nicholas—C. C. Moore; A Dutch Lullaby—Eugene Field; Robert of Lincoln—Wm. Cullen Bryant; The Sandpiper—Celia Thaxter.

Books to be read to the children:

The Story Hour }
Story of Patsy } Kate Douglas Wiggin.
What Katy Did.—Susan Coolidge.

In all of this work the children should be encouraged to dramatize, and illustrate on blackboard, or with ink, water-colors or charcoal, the stories they study.

Nature Study

Fall

September Flowers,—special study of golden-rod; Migration of Birds; Nuts; Frost; Special study of the rabbit.

Spring

Buds; Birds; Imported Fruits—the orange; Wild Flowers—special study of the dandelion.

History

Discovery of America; Stories connected with Indiana; Stories suitable for national holidays, particularly stories of bravery; Community life of early settlers.

Language

In the fall and spring terms the work in Nature Study and History will furnish a basis for the Language work. During the latter part of November and in December the work will be based upon the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

The work planned for Literature will be the basis for the Language work during the winter term, together with stories from history.

No attempt is to be made to force technique upon the pupils before it is needed, but as difficulties arise and definite instruction is required, such instruction should be given in definite lessons and repeated till the points are made perfectly clear, and right habits started.

Suggested exercises:

Telling stories for oral reproduction, followed by written reproduction.

Dictation,—always of connected thought.

Silent reading of short selections by the children, who afterwards reproduce them orally.

Illustration upon paper or blackboard of scenes and stories reproduced by them.

Memorizing of one poem each month.

Dramatization of stories, poems and pictures.

The Track
Squad

Letter writing.

Picture lessons.

Daily written lessons on the blackboard.

Pen and ink work begun.

Interest the pupil in good language.

Help him to make it a habit. Work for fluency, but attend also to sentence structure. Teach proper capitalization and placing of title; margin; indentation of first line; use of capitals, periods and question marks.

Geography

First Term

Field Lessons,—land and water forms—work of water; Weather observations; Points of compass; Maps of school-room and campus.

Second Term

1. Home Life; The Cave People; Homes of Seven Little Sisters; Our Homes,—materials needed for building and furnishing—related trades—lessons on brick and glass—comparison with homes already studied.
2. Needs of Daily Life; Food—animal, vegetable, mineral—lessons on bread, butter, salt; Fuel—kinds—where found—preparation for use—transportation; Clothing—kinds—how obtained—special lesson on linen or silk.
3. Occupations of different members of the family and their relation to each other. Great variety of other occupations.

The Normal
Baseball
Squad

The ideas of the children must be shown by things made and done. Clay and sand tables will be useful. Construct bridges, roads, houses, tents, boats, etc.

Third Term

Village of Indiana; Name—why so called; Location; History and Growth; Physical features of the locality.

Organization.

Productive occupations; Commercial occupations; Educational and social institutions; Government.

Industrial and Art Work

Progressive Lessons in Needlework. Chapter I—making of mats, baskets and dolls' hats of braided raphia.

Prang's Course of Study in Art.
Picture Study—two each term.

Landing of the Pilgrims—Boughton; Arrival of the Shepherds—Lerolle;
The First Step—Millet; Children of Charles I—Van Dyke; The Pet
Bird—Meyer von Bremen; Piper and Nut-crackers—Landseer.

Arithmetic

Milne's Progressive Arithmetic.—First Book, Part II.

Books not in the hands of the pupils till the subject is thoroughly taught, thus using them only for drill.

At least fifteen minutes of oral work should be given at the beginning of each recitation.

Simple problems should be written out on paper. Every subject should be developed through the handling of various concrete materials. Each child should handle the material and should construct and do at every step of the process. Each step must be supplemented by the introduction of many like problems.

Spelling and Writing

Graded Spelling Lessons for City Schools, Book III; Every written lesson should be a writing lesson.

In every lesson only the best written work is to be accepted from the pupil.

Special attention is to be paid to the form and uniform size of the letters and much practice in board work is to be given. Pen and ink work is begun in this grade.

Special Work for Christmas: Christmas in Other Lands.

Reading

Fourth Year

The pupils should now be able to read fluently and for the sake of what they read. While continued attention should be paid to the art of reading, the pupils should always realize that they are reading as adults read—to get the thought of the author—and not for the sake of going through the school exercise. They should also think about reading to entertain their classmates.

TEXTS:

Old Greek Stories.—Baldwin.

Silver Burdett Reader.—Fourth Book.

Old Stories of the East.—Baldwin.

Heath Reader.—Fourth Book.

Literature

The work during this year is based on "Robin Hood" as arranged by Howard Pyle. "In the oral treatment of these stories the teacher must thoroughly enjoy the stories herself, and in giving them to the children lose herself in the tone and spirit of the account. "These stories give an insight into English customs, feudalism, English character, and English ballad literature.

The ballads associated with Robin Hood should be read to the children.

During this year, we study Stevenson, Longfellow and Whittier and memorize the following poems:

The Land of Story Books	}	Robert Louis Stevenson
My Shadow
Bed in Summer
The Wind
The Children's Hour	}	Henry W. Longfellow
The Village Blacksmith
Paul Revere's Ride
The Corn Song	}	John G. Whittier
The Barefoot Boy
In School Days

Stories which should be read to the children:

Bird's Christmas Carol.—Wiggin; Black Beauty—Sewell; Little Lord Fauntelroy—Burnett.

Nature Study

Fall Term

Seed Dispersal; Leaves; Fruits—special study of "The Grape;" Trees and Forests.

Spring Term

Seed Germination; Elementary Forestry, (Hodge); Insects of the Household; Bird and Flower Calendars.

History

Story of Cleo the Greek Boy; Institutional Life of the Barbarous Indians; Stories related to national holidays; Stories of Pennsylvania. Pictures should be used at every step, and models of the people, houses and ships should be made.

Language

As in the third grade, the language work is based on the work in Nature Study during the fall and spring terms, and on Literature in the winter term, with History lessons throughout the year.

Suggested Exercises:

Continue the work of the third grade in sentence construction and in the correct use of sentences of different kinds.

Require much oral reproduction, and original work, both oral and written; oral work should always precede written work.

Give attention to paragraphing. Compositions may now take definite form.

Give lessons in letter writing, seeing that all the details are properly observed.

Encourage freedom and independence of expression, making outlines broad.
Encourage children to find and reproduce short anecdotes and short stories of animals.

Select and copy choice paragraphs.

Geography

First Term

Pennsylvania studied according to General Outline for Study of a Continent.

Name—spelling; significance or history.

Position—indicate on map or globe; relative position; actual position.

The

Music in the Training School

The music of the Training School is under the direct supervision of the Director of the Conservatory of Music, and is taught by members of the Supervisor's class. Members of the Senior class observe the work, and in turn are required to teach.

From
Armstrong
County

The course of study is carefully prepared and the work of the grades conducted after the best known methods.

Teachers are carefully trained in all that is required of an expert supervisor, and the music of the Training School is a pronounced feature.

First Grade Course of Study for the Eight Grades

Many rote songs well learned with careful attention given to quality of tone, sense of rhythm and development of pitch. Typical forms are selected leading to the subsequent work of teaching the elements.

Ear training, oral dictation, first rhythm form, monotone work, individual work, the phrase, the scale in song, the representation of scale, easy interval drill and much repetition is the work of the first year.

Second Grade

Work of first year continued. More difficult exercises in all phases of the work. Written dictation by teacher, reading music by motives and phrases a marked feature (rather than by single notes), this being the basis of all subsequent grade work. A little written work by children, such as staff, clef, letters, etc. Second rhythm form. Individual work.

Third Grade

Previous work continued. Two part work begun. Written and oral dictation by teacher and pupils. Difficult interval work. Afterbeat-note carefully developed. Extended rhythm forms. Development of rapid sight reading by means of phrase and period.

Fourth Grade

Careful review of previous work. Chromatics taught. The dotted note, two-part singing, oral and written dictation, songs read at sight, continued drill in every phase of the work. Further development of rhythm forms.

Fifth Grade

Master chromatics. Teach Minor scales. Much attention paid to sight reading (by phrases always) with such drill on single tones as may be necessary. All keys Major and Minor. Never losing sight of correct expression, quality of tone and all that leads to artistic singing.

Sixth and Seventh Grades

Sharp review. Three-part singing. Melody writing. Individual sight singing. Biographical sketches of great musicians. Frequent recitals given by advanced students of the Conservatory as a means of cultivating a taste for the best music.

Eighth Grade

Bass clef taught to boys with changed voices. Three and four-part singing. The Melodic Music Series of the Natural Music Course is made the basis of the work and also the Modern Music Course is used for supplementary songs.

The aim of the work in music is to fully develop a love for the best, as well as the ability to sing at sight, in a truly musical manner, anything placed before the child.

In the School of Business
Banking
Department

Foreword

Successful men and women of every calling in life recognize the advantages of a thorough business education. To those who intend pursuing an active business career, such training is an indispensable aid, if not a necessity. For this reason, and in order to furnish teachers for business departments in high schools, several years ago the commercial department was added to our school. Its object is to instruct young men and women in the laws, customs and forms of business; to cultivate in them habits of neatness, accuracy and thoroughness of work; to familiarize them with practical business problems, and in every way possible prepare them for successful business lives. The teachers are of the regular school faculty, and are specialists in their several lines.

Part of each term is spent in "Business Practice." The business of a city, on a small scale, is here carried on, with its stores, offices and banks. Each student enters business with a certain capital; buys and sells; draws drafts and checks; writes receipts, notes and other business papers, and at last retires from business with a handsome profit or perhaps insolvent, as the case may be. The benefit of this work is great, in that it combines practice with theory and thus fixes the principles of book-keeping.

In addition to the advantages of the department, Commercial students have all the privileges of the large library and reading room, literary societies and debating clubs, athletic association, Christian associations, socials, lectures and other entertainments of the school.

The time required to complete the Commercial Course varies with the ability, previous training and application of the student. As the instruction is largely individual, each student may progress as fast as he is able, and finish the work as soon as possible.

Many students, on entering the school, pass a special examination in Spelling, Grammar, Reading, Geography, History, D Composition and D Arithmetic, and, if their examination is satisfactory, are not required to take these studies in class. High school graduates are given credit in this department for the above named studies without examination.

Our Commercial courses are longer than those of many other Business Schools but we do not believe in graduating any student who does not have at least a good, common-school education; and we, therefore, include all the common branches in our Commercial Course, in addition to the regular commercial subjects. Our

at work in the
Training School

graduates are thus well-equipped and are preferred candidates for positions over persons who have taken only book-keeping, spelling and writing. Our commercial students enter the classes in Grammar, Composition, Civil Government, History, Geography, Arithmetic, Spelling, etc., along with students who are taking the regular Normal Course, and are required to do the same amount of work in these subjects. A subject passed for one course is passed in all courses or departments of the school.

Some advantages of Taking a Commercial Course at Normal

Music.—Students taking the Commercial Course have an excellent opportunity to take voice culture or instrumental music along with the commercial work. Many students do this.

Lectures.—It has become a part of the settled policy of this institution to give to its pupils the opportunity to hear in their own halls lecturers of eminent ability on subjects supplementary to the regular work, or of universal interest.

Actual Business.—Students will find at the Indiana Normal the finest equipped Actual Business and Banking Department in the State. Many of our students are now holding responsible positions in banks.

Influence.—It pays to attend a school that is widely and favorably known, for much of the future success of the student depends upon the character and influence of the school from which he graduates. An Indiana diploma is a passport into the best positions of the state.

Positions

We do not guarantee positions to the graduates of our Business School, but we are watchful and zealous in our efforts to place them as soon as they step out of the school. At the present time, we are unable to supply the demand for our graduates, and we do not doubt that this condition will continue.

Shorthand Course of Study

Students must enter shorthand classes the first day of the term. Beginning classes in shorthand, typewriting and book-keeping are formed each term.

First Term

- Shorthand—beginning. (Ben Pitman System.)
- Typewriting—beginning. "Touch Method."
- Writing—position, movement, exercises, practice.
- Spelling—orthography, orthœpy, diacritical marking.
- 1st Grammar.
- Book-keeping—(optional).

Second Term

- Shorthand—dictation.
- Typewriting—Van Sant "Touch Method."
- 2d Grammar—language lessons, practical applications.

D Composition—sentences, paragraphing, punctuation.
E Arithmetic.
Beginning Dictation—business letters, correspondence.
Bookkeeping—(optional.)

Third Term

Shorthand—advanced.
Typewriting—advanced.
D Arithmetic.
Tabulating and Manifolded.
Mimeographing and Billing.
Letter Writing—business letters, correspondence.
Advanced Dictation—law work and stories.
Business Correspondence.
C Composition.
Book-keeping—(optional.)

(Students are not required to take the subjects marked "Optional," though they are recommended to do so. No additional charge will be made for these "Optional" subjects.)

Special to Teachers

Owing to the great demand at the present time for trained teachers of Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Shorthand, Typewriting and other commercial subjects, we have recently organized a Commercial Teachers' Training Course, especially to prepare teachers to teach these subjects in High Schools, Normal Schools, Business Schools and Academies. We have had many calls lately for graduates of the regular Normal Course or of a good High School Course who had also prepared themselves for teaching the commercial subjects. The work is pleasant and agreeable and commands salaries ranging from $75 to $125 per month.

Commercial Teachers' Training Course

Book-keeping—Single and double entry, retailing, wholesaling, jobbing, lumbering, insurance, commission, real estate, corporations, actual business, banking.
Commercial Law—A thorough course in business law.
Arithmetic—F, E, D and B. Rapid calculation.
Spelling—Orthography, orthoepy, diacritical marking.
Writing—Position, movement, exercises, practice.
Reading—Articulation, voice culture, reading.
Geography—Descriptive, political, physical.
Composition—D, C, and B. Same as for Normal Course.
History—United States History completed.

Grammar—1st and 2d. Same as Normal Course.
 Civil Government—United States and Pennsylvania.
 Elementary Algebra.
 Plane Geometry.
 Drawing.
 European History.
 Chemistry.
 History of English Literature.
 Psychology.

Rhetoric.
 Shorthand—Ben Pitman System.
 Typewriting—Touch method or "Piano method."
 Letter Writing—Business letters, correspondence.
 Advanced Dictation—Law work and stories.
 Mimeographing—Typewritten and script.
 Manifolding, Tabulating, and Billing.

Normal School graduates, having completed most of the above subjects, will be required to take only the remaining subjects to complete the course and will be granted both the Commercial and Shorthand diplomas.

High School graduates are given credit for F, E and D arithmetic, spelling, reading, geography, history, 1st and 2d grammar and D composition. This will enable graduates of a good High School to complete the above course in less than a year.

Tuition—The tuition for either one of the Commercial Courses is the same as for the regular Normal Course and may be found under the heading, "Statement of Expenses," elsewhere in this catalogue.

Free Tuition—Is granted to all students over seventeen years of age who promise to teach for two years, either commercial or other subjects, in accordance with the provisions of the law. Commercial students who avail themselves of this opportunity are charged fifty cents a week for the "state subject" which the law requires them to take, inasmuch as this "state subject" is not included in the commercial courses.

The extra charges for shorthand and typewriting, as given in the "Statement of Expenses," are not intended for students who are taking either of the commercial courses, but are extra charges for students who are taking one or both of these studies in addition to the regular Normal Course.

The Normal Conservatory

Foreword

Our aim is to make this school in every respect all for which its name stands. The work of the Conservatory is most carefully to develop both the technical and the artistic, while the Normal training work is calculated to prepare the teacher.

It matters not whether it be Voice, Piano, Violin or the Supervisors' Course that is being pursued, our aim is carefully to train both the artist and the teacher in such a way as to fit them for life work, with so sure a foundation and so thorough a knowledge that they may reflect credit not only upon themselves, but also upon the school. The Conservatory is conducted after the manner of the best, found either in this country or in Europe. The Normal training will be quite distinct in itself, certain features of which can be found in no other school in the country.

The Teachers

The teachers are those of experience and have won for themselves pronounced distinction both as teachers and artists, representing the best training in leading conservatories and music schools, and with the best of private teachers. All are influential in stimulating their pupils to put forth their best efforts, taking a personal interest in each individual. Those who come here for simply "a good time," will not enjoy the school, as the spirit of progress and work is fostered and insisted upon. Pupils are brought into such close relations with the teachers in their everyday work that they are constantly receiving an impetus for good along all lines. Frequent recitals, both private and public, concerts, ensemble, all combine to create an atmosphere of industry. Parents may rest assured that their children will find friends as well as instructors in the teachers.

Courses of Study

The Courses of Study embrace all that is necessary in order to acquire a thorough technic, artistic interpretation and a musical education in its fullest sense. Students may elect the major subject either in Voice, Piano, Organ, or Violin or other orchestral instruments. In this they receive two lessons per week. Students who elect as the major subject either Voice or Violin will be required to take one lesson a week in Piano until they complete the Junior course in the same. The Piano is made the basis of all courses of study. While we outline a three years' course corresponding to those of the State Normal School, it must be understood that it may take longer to complete a course in music, and on the other hand a good student might be able to do the work required in less than three years. Where students have never studied Theory—that is, Harmony, Counterpoint, History of Music, etc.,—it will require at least two full years to master these subjects, all of which are necessary before one earns the right to be called a musician. To those who are able to keep up with their regular course will be granted the privilege of one lesson a week in another subject.

Studio in the Conservatory

Supervisors' Course

We desire especially to call attention to the superior advantages found at Indiana for the training of Supervisors of Music for public schools. It was largely owing to the fact that the Director of the Conservatory, after years of experience and observation while visiting schools in different parts of the country, became convinced of the need of a more thorough training on the part of the supervisor as well as of the grade teacher, that he was led to give his assistance in the establishment of a training school where both knowledge and experience could be obtained by those who wished to enter this important and wide field of labor. The course embraces all leading systems and methods and our graduates are prepared to use any one of them.

After a careful study of methods, devices, etc., students are required to give experimental lessons before the class, following which free criticism is made both by members of the class and the teacher in charge, and when found proficient they are required to teach throughout the several grades of the Model School, which enrolls upwards of two hundred children. In addition to all this, graduates must have completed the required course of study in Voice, Piano, Theory, History of Music, German, Pedagogy and Psychology. Theory of Music includes Harmony, Counterpoint to Fugue writing, and Instrumentation to the extent of being able to arrange music for instruments of the modern orchestra, as we contend that every supervisor should be able to do this in order to afford pupils who play such instruments as violin, cornet, flute, etc., an opportunity to accompany the voices as well as to improve themselves.

We are continually receiving letters of inquiry for good supervisors, and we advise Normal graduates and experienced teachers to take up this work provided they are musically inclined. There is a great demand for Supervisors of Music and Drawing, the two working well together.

Additional information can be had regarding this course by corresponding with the director.

Preparatory Course

For all students who may elect a Regular Course and are not prepared to enter the Junior year, a Preparatory Course is provided which includes such studies as are necessary to prepare them for the Regular Course. This course can be taken only in class of two at a reduced rate, or at regular rates as the student may elect.

Music
Studio

Juvenile Course

This course is for beginners under fourteen years of age who may desire to study either piano or violin. There will be three pupils in a class and the period is divided between them. The tuition is about one-third the regular rate. This course includes two lessons a week in violin or piano, with extra training in solfeggio and ensemble.

Private Lessons

While it is required of all graduates that they take a full course, any may take such lessons as they desire upon the payment of the regular rates specified in the catalogue.

Class Lessons

Harmony, Counterpoint, History of Music, Solfeggio, Sight Reading, etc., will be taught in classes. Students not taking a regular course have the privilege of entering these classes and will be charged the regular tuition.

Outline of Courses of Study

The numerals indicate the number of lessons or lectures each week.

Subjects printed in small capitals marked with star (*) are elective, one of which may be taken if pupil is doing satisfactory work in all other branches.

The Supervisor's course is a one- or two years course, according to previous knowledge of subjects.

Examinations

Regular term examinations will be held, and those taking a full course must give satisfactory evidence of having met the full requirements before being promoted to a higher grade.

Literary Requirements

Candidates for graduation will be required to show a thorough knowledge of the "common branches." Graduates of high schools or those having passed the Junior year of any State Normal School are accepted without examination.

Diplomas

Diplomas will be granted to those who complete a full course.

Choral Society

The Indiana Choral Society includes the leading singers of the town and School. It was organized two years ago and gave in addition to a number of lighter works, "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" and Gounod's "Gallia" the first season. Last season was an eventful one in the music life of Indiana. The first "Easter Music Festival" was held in the new and beautiful First Presbyterian Church. The soloists were: Miss Gertrude Clark, Soprano; Mr. W. C. Earnest, Tenor; Mr. John E. Roberts, Baritone; Fritz Goerner, Cellist; Mr. Franz Kohler, Violin; Mr. Berthaler, Flute; Mr. Schultz, Horn; The Pittsburg Festival Orchestra and Choral Society. The works given by the Choral Society were "Victory Divine," "Fair Ellen" and "The Creation." The festival was such a success that it will become an annual feature.

The Orchestra

Opportunity will be given for the study of the cornet, clarinet, flute, cello, trombone or other orchestral instruments, and regular rehearsals will be held. The Director has a fine library of standard works for full orchestra, and has conducted many fine choruses, orchestras and military bands, all of which will form an important feature of this school.

Attention will be paid to String Quartettes and ensemble of various instruments, thus affording ample opportunity for further development of musical talent.

Expenses in the Conservatory

See Index in back of this catalogue.
